

World Institute for
Nuclear Security

(The very first) WINS Academy Alumni Event 2-3 July 2019

Rhonda Evans
Head of the WINS Academy

The WINS Vision

All nuclear and other radiological materials and facilities are effectively secured by demonstrably competent professionals applying best practice to achieve operational excellence.

Learning Service

Learners' journey to certification

Over 1300 Participants from 94 Countries

375 Certified Nuclear Security Professionals

Sustaining the Engagement – The WINS Alumni Network

79%

of our participants are from developing countries

96%

of our Alumni say that WINS certification has positively impacted their professional image

50%

of our Alumni have received a significant increase in responsibility

Diverse and inclusive nuclear security sector

Promotion of certified training in Nuclear Security: Individuals

Role of ambassadors for WINS

Promotion of certified training in Nuclear Security: Institutions Countries

Advancing International Commitments to Certified Training for Nuclear Security Management:
INFORMATION CIRCULAR 901

Canada is committed to strengthening the international nuclear security architecture and we support WINS since they effectively contribute to building demonstrably competent nuclear security professionals globally.

Nathalie Semblat, Deputy Director
Nuclear and Radiological Security for Global Affairs Canada.

WWW.WINS.ORG

WINS Vision for Academy Alumni - engaged and connected - Nuclear Security Professionals

Thank you for your attention

Learn more at:

www.wins.org

Email:

rhonda.evans@wins.org

World Institute for
Nuclear Security